

Specialist commercial, tech & IP lawyers working in house with you

What is it?

LEWIS SILKINHOUSE is a well established and popular service from Lewis Silkin, tailored to complement our existing client services or as a stand alone service. It is designed for the growing number of businesses with an existing inhouse legal resource, for those times when you have a surge of work, a large project or need cover for an existing team member's absence.

Our service is what it says, having your own LEWIS SILKINHOUSE specialist commercial lawyer working inhouse with you to become an integrated part of your team.

A thoroughly flexible service

Whatever your need we can provide you with a highly trained commercial lawyer at the level that matches your needs from paralegal, junior/senior lawyer to general counsel.

Our specialists will arrive equipped with appropriate levels of legal experience and commercial sense gained from working in private practice and inhouse, and can work in the way that suits you: full time or part time; on location or virtually; or any other way of fitting in with your work patterns and needs.

How much will it cost?

You can expect to have our expert lawyers at very reasonable rates. The particular terms will depend on the level of the specialist placed with you. We anticipate that there will be considerable savings over hiring a permanent lawyer.

Our team of lawyers

Our commercial lawyers have worked in house in a wide range of industry sectors including the automotive industry, media, retail, online delivery, manufacturing, technology, fashion, advertising and marketing with particular experience in creative, innovative and brand focussed businesses.

Placements include senior interim support for a FTSE

100 retailer on logistics outsourcing projects, supporting a multinational networking and telecommunications company on TV production work, managing consumer, commercial and IP issues for an online sports betting company and supporting a leading media company on various technology and commercial agreements. We also provide an interim UK and European DPO service.

The team supports businesses on a wide range of technology and digital requirements including advising on ad tech, AI, digital marketing and communications.

The team also regularly advises clients on 'route to market' strategies, such as agency, distribution, franchise and IP licensing through to business process outsourcing and managed services, logistics and supply chain arrangements, e-commerce, sponsorship, data and consumer law (including regulatory investigations).

In addition, the team can assist clients with brand strategy, from the inception of an idea through to value analysis, global IP protection and exploitation, concept roll-out, commercialisation, dealing with disputes and beyond.

What our clients say

"Lewissilkinhouse quickly provided a candidate with exactly the right background who was able to slot into the team and pick up the workload"
