

LEWIS SILKINHOUSE GC

providing senior in-house support for your business

What is it?

LEWIS SILKINHOUSE GC offers senior level, strategic in-house support from both specialist commercial / IP lawyers and specialist employment lawyers, via our established and popular flexible resourcing service LEWIS SILKINHOUSE.

The service is what it says, you can have your own general counsel level / senior consultant lawyer working in-house with you as an integrated part of your team, all on a flexible and cost efficient basis.

How is it different?

The service gives you the option of having your own senior legal consultant working on an on-going basis within your business, providing assistance on a particular bespoke project, a strategic change or as your dedicated part-time or interim general counsel.

All of our consultant lawyers have extensive in-house experience of working with management and commercial teams and supporting complex projects. The objective is to provide an on-going, longer term, integrated relationship, whereby your consultant can really get to know you and your business and therefore provide more commercial, practical and insightful solutions.

Who is it for / what are the benefits?

Whether you are a General Counsel needing some senior experienced support on a new project or strategic change, or a CEO/COO/CFO looking to bring on a part time or interim general counsel, we can be flexible and can work in the way that suits you. This might be full time or part time, on location or virtually, fixed or variable days/hours, or any other way that fits in with your work patterns and needs.

This type of integrated legal consultancy can help provide sophisticated and cost effective month to month support; or we can also help with a wide range of bespoke scenarios such as structuring new activity or conducting audits, whilst always adding value for instance by identifying risks and opportunities, or developing processes and policies.

Our team of lawyers

Our panel of senior lawyers will have all worked in-house at a senior or general counsel level for a number of years and bring with them vast experience of leading teams and projects in conjunction with senior management. We draw our lawyers from a wide range of industry sectors including media, advertising and marketing, retail, technology, financial services and manufacturing.

How much will it cost?

You can expect to engage our expert lawyers at very reasonable rates. The terms will depend on the particular project or length of relationship, but we anticipate that there will be considerable savings over traditional resourcing solutions.
